

Gulf Coast Music

2018 Summer String Camp

This year's summer camp was great! And what a great picture!

Our students enjoyed learning a LOT of music including Ed Sheeran's Beautiful, a new classical piece written by Joachim Johow from Berlin, music by Helen Butterworth from the UK, plus many folk songs, classical, and chamber music, too. Scott Crawford, the percussion teacher, shared some great music and our students had so much fun learning it. They loved constructing musical instruments and making slime was definitely a hit!

100 Practices

We will continue this challenge. Bring your completed 100 practices chart, attached below, to trade in for a prize. I will bring the treasure box to group class filled with many wonderful things!

NOTES

You may wear costumes or red GCM tops for the Halloween Concert. We will play outside and hope the rest of the event is not cancelled because of rain this year!

Students will wear black and white for the Holiday Concerts. I'm trying to give you more time to find girls' black dresses and boys' white long sleeve dress shirts and black slacks.

For this years' Twinkle and Book Graduations date, I am open for suggestions. January might be good, so our students have time to review after the holiday performances. Twinklers should be at least three pieces past Twinkle Theme to graduate the Twinkles. Students should be at least half way through the next book and have all the book pieces memorized to graduate the previous book.
